

Vision:

To Learn from Nature various tricks and techniques it uses to protect it's surface from stickiness of liquid so as to protect various surface from the harmful impacts of these sticky liquid and also produce surfaces with reduced drag.

Some Natural Superhydrophobic Surfaces:

- Shark Skin: repels water, reduces drag, enhances swimming speed
- Lotus Leaf: repels water, increases surface area available for photosynthesis
- Bird's Feather: repels water, keeps feather dry and light, easier to fly

NanoTech mimics Nature:

- We use Nano Technology to Mimic Nature
- Create Surfaces like Shark Skin or Lotus Leaf
- Produced by Billions of nanometre size rivulets
- By synthetic coating applied to these surfaces
- Solutions available for various type of protection
- SuperHydroPhobic – Super repellent for Water
- OmniPhobic – Repellent for a host of pollutants
